Article (4) The Department Council forms the Department Committee comprised of (3-5) members, of the highest academic ranks, for one year renewable. In the event the number of professors is not enough, the committee may be complemented with associate professors. The Department Council shall periodically select a head of the committee from among its high ranking members.

Associate professors members of the committee shall be excluded upon viewing the promotion files of members applying to the rank of professor.

Article (5) In case the conditions for the formation of the Department Committee are not met, the Dean, in consultation with the Chair of the Department concerned, forms an Ad hoc Department Committee, provided that

- (1) the applicant's area of specialization is observed,
- (2) the academic rank of any of the members of the committee is not lower than the academic rank the applicant is applying for,
- (3) One member only of the committee may be a member of the College Committee.

- Article (6) The applicant is excluded from the promotion committee if he/she is one of its members. If, in such case, quorum is not met, the Chair of Department concerned shall report to the Dean to appoint another member from another department to temporarily replace him/her.
- Article (7) The College Council shall form, for one year renewable, the College Committee from the heads of the Departments' Committees whose members shall not be less than 3. The College Council shall select periodically the highest ranking member from among them to act as head of the committee.
- Article (8) The College Council shall select a member from the highest academic ranks in the department to represent the department in the College Committee in the event the formation of the Academic Promotion Committee is not met in the department provided the rank of the selected member shall not be lower than an associate professor.
- Article (9) In colleges in which the conditions for the formation of the College Committee are not met, the Dean shall refer the matter to the Vice President in the following cases:
1. Upon the formation of the College Committee which includes in addition to the heads of the departments committees, a member from each department committee nominated by the College Council.
 2. The formation of a college ad hoc committee which includes eligible members required for the college committee from other colleges in the event the number is less than three.
 3. The formation of a college ad hoc committee which includes eligible members from other colleges in the event the number required for the college committee is less than three.
- Article (10) The University Council shall form the Central Committee whose members represent all colleges for two years renewable. Members of this committee must be full professors. The college representative in the Central Promotion Committee must be included in the promotion committee in his/her college.

Chapter Three: Procedures for Academic Promotion Committees

- Article (11) The applicant shall submit his/her promotion file to the Chair of the Department to be referred to the Department Committee to assess whether it satisfies the promotion requirements. The report of the committee, if positive, shall be referred to the Department Council for notification in accordance with the approved procedures. Any objections by any of the council members to the committee's positive report must be submitted in writing to the Chair of the Department to be referred to the committee for revision before being sent with the promotion file to the Dean to complete the procedures.

In the case the report is negative, the applicant shall be notified through the Chair of the Department as to the type and number of needed requirements. He/she has the right to submit a grievance in accordance with the specified procedures.

Article (12) The Chair of the Department shall, in case the Department Committee is not eligible to decide on the case, refer the file to the Dean to refer it to the Ad hoc Department Committee to decide whether it meets the requirements for promotion. The positive report shall then be referred to the Department Council for notification according to the approved procedures. Any objections by any of the council members to the committee's positive report must be submitted in writing to the Chair of the Department who shall refer it to the committee, through the dean, for revision before being sent again with the promotion file to the Dean to complete the procedures.

In the case the report is negative, the applicant shall be notified through the Chair of the Department as to the type and number of needed requirements. He/she has the right to submit a grievance in accordance with the specified procedures.

Article (13) The Chair of the Department shall submit to the Dean the positive report, together with the promotion file to be referred to the College Committee.

Article (14) The College Committee submits the positive report to the Dean to be referred to the College Council for notification according to the approved procedures. Any objections by any of the council members to the committee's positive report must be submitted in writing to the Dean who shall refer it to the committee for revision before it is referred to the Vice President.

Article (15) The Dean shall submit to the Vice President the positive report together with the scientific research and activities of the applicant to be referred to the Central Committee.

In case the report is negative, the promotion file shall be returned to the department concerned for filing. The applicant shall be notified through the Chair of the Department as to the type and number of needed requirements. He/she has the right to submit a grievance in accordance with the specified procedures.

In all cases the referral period of the file by the department or the college must not exceed one week.

Article (16) The Central Committee shall only review the scientific research and activities of the applicant after ensuring the accuracy of the prescribed actions in the minutes and reports of the department and college committees and to ratify them. The head of the Central Committee may request from the concerned representative of the college or dean any information on issues raised by its members.

The Central Committee may return the promotion file to the college, for reviewing, if it deems that the actions were not fulfilled.

- Article (17) The Central Committee may return the promotion file to the college if it deems that the scientific research and activities have not been fulfilled. The applicant shall be notified of the type and number of requirements needed, through the Chair of the Department, to complete the items, and their submission according to the applied procedures
- Article (18) The Central Committee shall submit its report on results of refereeing the research of the applicant applying for promotion and whether he/she has fulfilled the requirements to the Vice President who shall forward it to the University Council to issue the proper decision.
- Article (19) The applicant shall submit his/her promotion file for the second time in accordance with the above procedures and in the following manner:
- a) In case the result of any of the promotion committees at the department, college, or the university level is negative, the respective applicant shall submit the file including only the unsatisfied requirements in the previous submission, provided that the resubmission be made in a period not more than 18 months from the date of rejecting the file, otherwise, the applicant shall resubmit the file with all the requirements.
 - b) In case the result of refereeing the research is negative, the applicant shall submit the promotion file containing the scientific research and activities only. He/she must observe that research papers with weak evaluation from the majority of referees should not be resubmitted.

Chapter Four: Academic Promotion Requirements

First: Time span for promotion

- Article (20) Any faculty member who has spent five years in his/her academic rank may apply for promotion to a higher rank in accordance with the rules and criteria specified in these regulations.
- Article (21) The applicant may, according to the previous article, submit the promotion file six months prior to the submission date, provided that the promotion shall not be effective before the completion of the specified period.
- If the applicant publishes new research papers after the submission of his/her application and are not included in the file, he/she may add them during the evaluation of the file at the department level only, or he/she may include them in a subsequent promotion application file.
- Article (22) Promotion shall be effective as of the date of the University Council's approval of the promotion. The council may defer promotion for a limited period in case the applicant is being referred to an academic investigation committee or a disciplinary board or he/she has been penalized for a disciplinary act, observing the rulings of Article (52) of Academic Faculty By-Laws (2006).

Article (23) Faculty, whether on contract or permanent, who worked for other universities or institutions, (observing the rules stipulated in articles (32), (34), (35) of the Academic Faculty By-Laws (2006)), may apply for promotion under the following conditions:

1. The applicant has completed (5) years after obtaining the last academic rank.
2. The applicant has completed 30 months at the university prior to applying for promotion. He/she may apply after 24 months of the date of contract, provided that promotion shall be effective upon completion of the specified Period (30 months).
3. The applicant has completed a minimum of 50% of his/her research while working at the university.
4. The applicant's performance at the university is the criterion for evaluating his/her teaching, university, and community services.

Article (24) Faculty members on contract may request the endorsement of his/her promotion at another university after the commencement of his/her contract with the University of Bahrain, upon a promotion application submitted to his/her university prior to his /her contract. In this case, the procedures commence with an application to be submitted to the Chair of the Department to be referred to the academic promotion committees at the department, college and university levels to check and verify the validity of all submitted documents, and in particular, reviewing scientific research to insure the compliance with the scientific research requirements in the Regulations of Academic Promotion at the university in order to issue a recommendation to the University Council. The request must contain the promotion decision, the research submitted to his/her original university, and a proof indicating the submission date of the promotion application in the said university. The request must be submitted within two years of joining the university.

Second: Teaching and Educational Activities

Article (25) The criteria and percentage of teaching quality, university and community services required for academic promotion are set out as in the Application Form for Academic Promotion.(Appendix 1)

Article (26) The applicant, applying for promotion, must at least obtain (70%) in the evaluation of his/her teaching and academic activities according to the Faculty Performance Evaluation Form for Academic Promotion (Appendix 2) and the Students' Faculty Evaluation Form approved by the University Council with a ratio of (40%) for the first with a minimum of (25%), and (60%) for the second with a minimum of (40%).

Article (27) The Chair of the Department concerned must fill out the Faculty Performance Evaluation Form annually. This to assist the chair or the Dean in conjunction with the permanent Department Committee to fill out the Faculty Performance Evaluation Form by referring to the documented data in the forms throughout the previous semesters. The applicant must include documents for all items that require verification.

The newly appointed Chair of the Department should seek the opinion of the former Chair of the Department in filling out the Faculty Performance Evaluation Form for the applicant applying for promotion. In the event the chair himself/herself is applying for promotion, the Dean of the college concerned shall fill out the Faculty Performance Evaluation Form and shall seek the opinions of the former chairs of the department.

Third: Scientific Research and Activities

Article (28) Research published or accepted for publication in refereed journals, and research presented to refereed conferences and seminars, and published books pertaining to the field of specialization are accepted for promotion requirements.

Scientific research submitted for seminars shall be treated in the same manner as scientific papers submitted for conferences in terms of their classification.

Article (29) Points obtained by the applicant are calculated as shown in the following tables:

a- Scientific Research:

| Publication type | Published in refereed academic journal | | | Published in proceedings of a refereed conference or scientific seminars | | |
|------------------|--|-----|-----|--|-----|-----|
| | (A) | (B) | (C) | (A) | (B) | (C) |
| | 6 | 4 | 2 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
| Single | 18 | 12 | 6 | 9 | 6 | 3 |
| Principal | 12 | 8 | 4 | 6 | 4 | 2 |
| Associate | 6 | 4 | 2 | 3 | 2 | 1 |

b- Books and Patents:

| Type of book or patent | Single | Principal | Associate |
|---|--------|-----------|-----------|
| A refereed university textbook | 12 | 8 | 4 |
| Approved patent | 12 | 8 | 4 |
| A general book in the field of specialization (Non-Textbook) | 9 | 6 | 3 |
| Editing a book in the field of specialization (Refereed) | 6 | 4 | 2 |
| A chapter or more in published books or within a book series in the field of specialization | 3 | 2 | 1 |

C- Supporting Research Activities:

| Type of supporting activity | Points gained per activity |
|---|----------------------------|
| Refereeing a research paper, dissertation or scientific award | 3 |
| Keynote speaker in a conference | 3 |
| Editorial member in a refereed scientific journal | 3 |
| Translating a book | 3 |
| Creative work | 3 |

| Any other activity (of the same status of the above, based on the assessment of the relevant promotion committee) | 3 |

Article (30) To meet the requirements for promotion to the rank of Associate Professor, the applicant must meet one of the following conditions:

- a. submit at least (4) research papers in refereed journals, (3) of which are already published, (2) of the published papers are single-authored;

or

- b. submit (5) research papers in refereed journals, (3) of which are already published, one of the published papers should be single-authored and the remaining two are co-authored, provided that the applicant in both is the principal author.

The applicant must score (54) points, of which at least (42) points are for published research. The total score allocated for Supporting Research Activities must not exceed (6) points.

A letter of acceptance is sufficient as a proof of the research being accepted in a refereed journal, provided that the period between the date of accepting the research for publication and the date of reviewing the promotion file by the Central Committee must not exceed (30) months.

An applicant applying for promotion to the rank of Associate Professor may select 4-8 research papers to be sent for refereeing, provided that they include the above requirements in items (a) or (b).

Article (31) To meet the requirements for promotion to the rank of professor, the applicant must meet one of the following conditions:

- a. submit at least (6) research papers in refereed journals, (4) of which are already published, (3) of the published papers are single-authored;

or

- b. submit (7) research papers in refereed journals, (4) of which are already published, two of the published papers should be single-authored and the remaining two are co-authored, provided that the applicant in both is the principal author.

The applicant must score (72) points, of which at least (54) points are for published research. The total score allocated for Supporting Research Activities must not exceed (6) points.

A letter of acceptance is sufficient as a proof of the research being accepted in a refereed journal, provided that the period between the date of accepting the research for publication and the date of reviewing the promotion file by the Central Committee must not exceed (30) months.

An applicant applying for promotion to the rank of Professor may select 6-12 research papers to be sent for refereeing, provided that they include the above requirements in items (a) or (b).

Article (32) General guidelines for scientific research:

1. The majority (more than 50%) of the scientific research papers submitted for promotion must be in the applicant's specific area of specialization as determined by the applicant in the Application Form for Academic Promotion, the rest should be in the general area of specialization.
2. Research papers submitted for promotion must not be plagiarized, nor extracted from the applicant's Master's dissertation or PhD dissertation, nor from research previously published or accepted for publication prior to the last promotion he/she has acquired. Applicants violating this clause will be referred to an investigation committee.
3. The first name mentioned among the names of joint authors is considered the principal researcher unless proven otherwise.
4. If the applicant is the editor-in-chief of a refereed journal, or a member of its editorial board, or a member of its advisory board, his/her research published in the same journal, during or after he/she has worked in the journal, will not be considered as part of his/her research submitted for promotion. In addition, any of his/her research co-authored with a member of the editorial or advisory boards of the same refereed scientific journal will not be considered for promotion purposes.
5. Published work in scientific journals submitted as letters, short communication, short notes, or short papers, which do not comply to the conditions and major components of scientific research papers, will not be considered as part of the refereed research submitted for promotion at the University of Bahrain.
6. Research published in a particular scientific refereed journal and submitted for promotion must not exceed (50%) of the total number of research papers.

7. Research published in a refereed scientific journal, as part of a special issue of conference proceedings, shall be treated in the same manner as research published in scientific journals if there is a proof that this research was meticulously refereed by the journal and if there is a proof that the journal implemented the normal publishing procedures.
8. It is expected from the applicant to regularly and continuously maintain his/her research activities during the period required for promotion.
9. The promotion file must include, in addition to the submitted research papers for promotion, all research submitted for a previous promotion and all extracted research from the Master's and PhD dissertations. The file should not be restricted only to listing of such research. Department and College Committees must check all these researches and compare them with research submitted for required promotion.

Fourth: University and Community Services

Article (33) The applicant's performance with regard to the university services will be evaluated by his work in the University of Bahrain according to the followings:

- a. Activities in permanent and ad hoc committees.
- b. Organizational activities.
- c. Scientific and professional activities
- d. Any other activities related to university services.

A maximum score of (40) points for each of the above should not be exceeded with a total score of (120) points.

Permanent committees at the department, college, or university level shall be re-formed annually at the beginning of each academic year. The applicant must document his/her membership in these committees for each academic year. Activities in the permanent committees (even in the same committee) shall be counted as independent, whenever a new decision of the formation of this committee is issued. The applicant must document that these committees have met in that period.

Developmental initiatives, whether, educational, researching, or administrative included by the applicant in the university services (Scientific and Professional Activities item) must be submitted in writing. Promotion committees may accept or reject any of these initiatives, on the basis of their value and use, in case they are not implemented.

Article (34) The minimum points for promotion in the university services is (70) out of (120) points.

Article (35) Any activities carried out by the applicant for serving the Bahraini community, in particular, media, cultural, scientific activities, etc..., shall be accounted for in accordance with a special form of (8) items, provided that the maximum score for each is (5) points. The applicant may include any other information on any community service related to Bahrain.

Article (36) The minimum score for community services is (20) points out of (40).

Chapter Five: Tasks and Duties of the Academic Promotion Committees

Article (37) The Academic Promotion Committees shall carry out the following tasks and duties:

First: The Department Committee reviews the promotion file to ensure whether all requirements are fulfilled. It allocates the scores against the items for teaching and academic activities, scientific research, and university and community services in accordance with the Application Form for Academic Promotion (Appendix 1). The committees' report shall be presented to the Department Council for notification, in accordance with the requirements mentioned in chapter 3 of these regulations within a period that does not exceed 2 months as of the date the committee starts reviewing the applicant's promotion file. It should be observed that official holidays will not be counted as part of this period and the committee must justify any delay, if it occurs, provided that the delay is related to reviewing previous promotion files.

Second: The College Committee reviews the department's report to ensure that the applicant has fulfilled the promotion requirements. In case the requirements are fulfilled, the report shall be referred to the College Council for notification, in accordance with the requirements mentioned in Chapter 3 of these regulations within a period that does not exceed 3 months as of the date the committee starts reviewing the applicant's promotion file. It should be observed that official holidays will not be counted as part of this period and the committee must justify any delay, if it occurs, provided that the delay is related to reviewing previous promotion files.

Third:

- a. Observing all clauses of Article (16), the Central Committee shall only review the scientific research and activities in the promotion file in order to ensure that the applicant has fulfilled their requirements as to the quantity of papers, and whether they fulfill the fundamentals of scientific research, the publication level and variation, approving letters of publication acceptance and whether the requirements of Article (32) have been fulfilled, within a period that does not exceed 2 months as of the date the committee starts reviewing the applicant's promotion file and until a decision to send or not to send the scientific research for external refereeing is reached; presuming that all required documents have been completed for reviewing. It should be observed that official holidays will not be counted as part of this period and the committee must justify any delay, if it occurs.

- b. The committee takes all measures necessary to referee the scientific research and select the referees from the list approved by the college deanship, provided that the applicant's area of specialization is observed and none of the referees has participated with the applicant in any scientific work.

Fourth: The applicant may challenge the report of the department or college committees in accordance with the grievance mechanisms determined in Chapter six of these regulations.

Chapter Six: The Grievance Mechanism against the Decisions of the Promotion Committees

Article (38) The grievance mechanism against the decisions of the promotion committees is subject to the following rules:

1. The applicant has the right to submit to the Chair of the Department a grievance against the decision of the Department Committee regarding his/her failure to fulfill the promotion requirements after being officially informed. The chair shall, in turn, returns the promotion file and the grievance to the Department Committee to reconsider its report. If the committee insists on its decision, the issue will be referred to the Dean to refer it to the College Committee for a final decision. The Dean shall inform the Chair of the Department of the decision of the College Committee in order to complete the promotion procedures.
2. The applicant has the right to submit to the Chair of the Department a grievance against the decision of the College Committee regarding his/her failure to fulfill the promotion requirements after being officially informed. The Chair shall refer it to the Dean who, in turn, returns the promotion file and the grievance to the College Committee to reconsider its report. If the committee insists on its decision, the Dean will refer the matter to the Central Committee for a final decision. The Chair of the Central Committee shall inform the Dean of the decision of the committee in order to complete the promotion procedures.
3. The applicant has no right to file a grievance against the decision of the referees appointed by the Central Committee to evaluate his/her academic research.
4. The applicant for whom a decision has been made that he/she has failed to fulfill the promotion requirements (by any of the three promotion committees) is not allowed to apply for promotion for a second time until the lapse of one year from the date of issuance of the decision (if he/she has not filed a grievance against that decision), or one year after rejection of his/her grievance.

Chapter Seven: Procedures for Evaluating Research Papers

- Article (39) Only published research papers and papers accepted for publication will be sent to the referees. Others such as conference papers, books, patents, and supporting research activities will not be sent for refereeing. In addition, the Application Form for Academic Promotion will be sent to the referees.
- Article (40) Research papers will be sent to (5) referees upon applying for promotion to the ranks of Associate Professor or Professor. It should be observed, that the external referees nominated for refereeing the research of faculty applying for promotion are full professors.
- Article (41) The evaluation of the referees will be based on the approved Referee's Research Evaluation Form (Appendix 5).
- Article (42) Promotion requirements will be met if three referees approved the promotion to the rank applied for, provided that their evaluation for the four or five research papers (the minimum limit mentioned in Article (30)) should not score less than 60% (for each research paper that had already fulfilled the requirements stipulated in Article (30)) for the promotion to the rank of Associate Professor.

Their evaluation of the six or seven research papers (the minimum limit mentioned in Article (31)) should not be less than 75 % (for each research paper that had already fulfilled the requirements stipulated in Article (31)) for the promotion to the rank of Professor.

Chapter Eight: Final Rules

- Article (43) All appendices attached to these regulations are integral parts of these regulations.
- Article (44) If the applicant for academic promotion carried out an activity that interrelates with more than one area mentioned in these regulations, only one score will be counted for this activity and it may have the highest evaluation.
- Article (45) The applicant for academic promotion must not include any additional documents to the promotion file once the Department Promotion Committee receives the file, observing the conditions mentioned in Article (21) regarding to research papers. Once the file is submitted to the College Committee, the applicant will not be asked to add any missing documents.
- Article (46) All dates of correspondence and minutes of meetings of promotion committees should be documented, such as dates of : receipt of the application for promotion; referral of promotion file to the Department Promotion Committee by the Chair; issuance of the Department Academic Promotion Committee's Report; submission of the Department Academic Promotion Committee's Report to the Chair; presentation of the Department Academic Promotion Committee's Report to the Department Council; referral of the promotion file from the Chair to the Dean.

In addition, all correspondences addressed from or to the applicant for promotion should be documented in writing.

Article (47) All departments must keep a copy of the promotion files submitted by its faculty members, in order to facilitate the work of the promotion committee when reviewing promotion files, in the future, for the same faculty or other faculty who share joint research activities with the applicants of previous promotion files.

Article (48) In the event the Chair or the Dean applies for promotion, the head of the promotion committee in the department or the college shall act on behalf of the Chair or the Dean as to the promotion procedures.

N.B Should there be any dispute arising from misinterpretation, misunderstanding, or vagueness of the English text, the Arabic text shall be the source text to be referred to for interpreting these regulations.

Procedure for Calculating the Average of Student's Faculty
Evaluation for the Applicant
Applying for Promotion

Procedure for Calculating the Average of Student's Faculty Evaluation for the Applicant Applying for Promotion

Attachments of University Council decision No. 28/2010

1. The Evaluation and Measurement Center shall enter all data of Students' Evaluation Forms for all faculty at the end of each semester and shall calculate differential evaluation for all academic courses including morning and evening periods, graduate courses, and summer semester courses taking into consideration the total number of all students in each course and section.
2. The general differential evaluation (average of means) shall be calculated for all academic courses taught by the faculty throughout all academic semesters by calculating the differential evaluation for the courses of each semester multiplied by the number of students in the same semester, then the total is divided by the number of all students throughout all semesters. (see attached example)
3. The general differential evaluation (average of means) for all academic courses taught by the concerned faculty throughout all semesters is multiplied by 60 and divided by 100 to calculate the points that the faculty member has earned out of 60 in accordance with the Regulations of Academic Promotion at University of Bahrain.
4. Only academic sections with minimum of five respondents shall be evaluated and approved.

Example for the Procedure for Calculating the Average of Student's Faculty Evaluation for the Applicant Applying for Promotion

Given that a faculty applying for academic promotion was teaching at University of Bahrain since the academic year 2003-2004 and until the academic year 2007-2008, the student's faculty evaluation for all semesters including the summer semesters will be calculated. The total result will be counted out of (60) in the following manner:

| Academic Semester | Total No. of students in each semester | Average differential evaluation for each semester | No. of students x differential evaluation for the semester | Average of means* | Total points out of 60 |
|---------------------------|--|---|--|-------------------|------------------------|
| 1 st 2003-2004 | 10 | 86.811 | 868.11 | | |
| 2 nd 2003-2004 | 54 | 78.622 | 4245.59 | | |
| Summer 2003-2004 | 41 | 77.239 | 3166.8 | | |
| 1 st 2004-2005 | 41 | 76.722 | 3145.6 | | |
| 2 nd 2004-2005 | 115 | 74.466 | 8563.59 | | |
| Summer 2004-2005 | 89 | 72.232 | 6428.65 | | |
| 1 st 2005-2006 | 52 | 73.761 | 3835.57 | | |
| 2 nd 2005-2006 | 103 | 71.121 | 7325.46 | | |
| Summer 2005-2006 | 70 | 68.848 | 4819.36 | | |
| 1 st 2006-2007 | 101 | 63.013 | 6364.31 | | |
| 2 nd 2006-2007 | 40 | 64.374 | 2574.96 | | |
| 1 st 2007-2008 | 52 | 66.598 | 3463.1 | | |
| 2 nd 2007-2008 | 79 | 66.977 | 5291.18 | | |
| | 847 | | 60092.3 | 70.95* | 42.57 |

* The average of means is calculated in the following manner:

$$60092.3 / 847 = 70.95\%$$

 Points out of 60 are calculated in the following manner: $(70.95 \times 60) / 100$

Thus the total points for this member are (42.57) out of (60) (More than the minimum 40%). This total shall be added to the result of the Faculty Performance Evaluation Form (Appendix 2), which is out of 40 points (with a minimum of 25%). The applicant must obtain (70) out of (100) as the minimum for the total evaluation for his/her teaching and educational activities in order to complete the rest of the procedures for promotion according to the regulations.
